When you complete the CDHBC online application, payment for your CDHA/BCDHA membership (which includes your professional negligence insurance) will be collected as well. If you are currently registered in another jurisdiction and currently have CDHA insurance, please contact CDHA directly to discuss your membership options. For more information on this streamlined process and how it will affect you during CDHBC renewals, please visit our website at: <http://www.cdhbc.com/Documents/CDHBC-BCDHA-CDHA-Combined-Announcement-FINAL.aspx>

- Successful completion of the CDHBC dental hygiene clinical exam, or
- Successful completion of a dental hygiene clinical exam administered by another Canadian jurisdiction. For information on the CDHBC Clinical Examination, please visit the CDHBC website: <http://www.cdhbc.com/Registration-Renewal/Clinical-Examination.aspx>. All information required for BC registration regarding the completion of a dental hygiene clinical examination is requested in the Registration Application Forms. Documentation regarding successful completion of a Clinical Examination in another Canadian Jurisdiction should come directly from the dental hygiene regulatory body of that jurisdiction.

Agreement on Internal Trade

If the applicant has been previously registered in the 'Full Practicing' category or equivalent and is in good standing in another Canadian jurisdiction recognized under the Agreement on Internal Trade (AIT) they are eligible to register in BC without being required to take any additional examinations prior to registration.

All information required regarding registration in good standing and AIT is requested in the Registration Application. Please review the Registration Application carefully and provide all information required regarding registration in another Canadian jurisdiction. The CDHBC will require a letter of good standing from any and all jurisdictions where the applicant has been registered to practice dental hygiene. All applicants must notify CDHBC of all jurisdictions in Canada and internationally where they have been registered to practice dental hygiene.

New Registrants' Participation in the Quality Assurance Program (QAP):

All new CDHBC registrants must commence a Quality Assurance Program (QAP) upon initial registration.

CDHBC is required under the Health Professions Act to establish a Quality Assurance Program (QAP) to ensure public protection. The QAP will provide registrants with a five-year cycle during which time they must complete 75 hours of Continuing Competency credits in order to maintain their practicing status. All registrants in a practicing category must participate in the Quality Assurance Program. The QAP Assessment Tool is an online tool that has to be completed by registrants at the beginning of their five-year QAP cycle. The results of the Assessment Tool will help define the registrant's Online Learning Plan (OLP). The OLP has been developed as part of the QAP as a useful mechanism that provides feedback and support for personal and professional development. The OLP is a place for registrants to create learning goals, develop action plans, record Continuing Competency credits, and reflect on learning. All registrants have their own online personal profile which can be accessed through the CDHBC website and serves as a place for registrants to update information, access their OLP, and renew registration each year.

Recent Graduates in the Quality Assurance Program (QAP):

Recent Graduates are defined as applicants who have graduated from an accredited dental hygiene program and have passed their National Dental Hygiene Certification Board (NDHCB) Examination within one year of applying for CDHBC registration, and who have never been previously registered to practice dental hygiene in any other jurisdiction. Given the recent completion of the NDHCB Examination, applicants classified as recent graduates are exempt from completing the QAP Assessment Tool upon registering with the CDHBC. Instead, upon registration applicants classified as recent graduates will commence a 5-year QAP cycle with an Online Learning Plan (OLP) comprised of four prescribed content categories that must be addressed through their Guided Learning Plan.

Registrants from Other Jurisdictions and Non-Recent Graduates in the Quality Assurance Program (QAP): Applicants previously registered in other jurisdictions and those not classified as a 'recent graduates' must complete the online QAP Assessment Tool within 60 days of being granted registration to practice dental hygiene in BC. Failure to complete the QAP Assessment tool within 60 days of the initial date of registration may result in suspension of registration.

For more information on the Quality Assurance Program, please review the QAP Information Guide.

Jurisprudence Education Module (JEM)

The Jurisprudence Education Module (JEM) provides education and information on the legal framework that governs dental hygiene practice in BC. The JEM includes an overview of the BC Dental Hygienists Regulation, CDHBC Bylaws, Practice Standards, Scope of Practice and ethical obligations of registrants.

The JEM is an online learning module can be accessed once you submit your online application with CDHBC. All CDHBC registration applicants must complete the JEM as part of the required documentation for their application. For more information, please visit: <http://www.cdhbc.com/Professional-Development/Jurisprudence-Education-Module.aspx>. Once you have been granted registration, the JEM will become part of your QAP and will need to be completed at least once during your QAP cycle.
